

I understand the Consumer Bankers Association is challenging Indiana's Telephone Privacy law in a proceeding before the FCC. The CBA wants to impose the federal "established business relationship" exemption on Indiana consumers. If successful, anybody that you currently have a business relationship with (e.g., your bank, credit card company, long distance carrier) will be able to call me as often as they want. I PAY FOR MY OWN PHONE SERVICE AND DO NOT LIKE IT BEING USED FOR ANY TELEMARKETING PURPOSES WHATSOEVER (INCLUDING NON-PROFITS/CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS).
